Dear Mr. Crowe:

Unfortunately Mr. Jackson was unable to see [redacted] when he was in Washington. I, however, had a long talk with [redacted] and turned him over to people who I thought would be interested in his ideas. As yet I have not heard the outcome of his conversations but I am sure that everything he had to say was of interest and has been given consideration.

It is good of you to take the time to send in people whom you believe could be of service.

Sincerely,

[redacted]
